

12th International BUILDAIR-Symposium

Airtight Buildings, Thermography and Ventilation Systems in Practice

March 26, 2021

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

we cordially invite you to the International BUILDAIR Symposium on June 25th and 26th, 2021. In view of the still tense corona situation, the meeting will take place as an bilingual online conference this year. Even if we cannot meet in person in Hanover, it is important that we maintain the flow of information flowing during this difficult time.

Of course, the International BUILDAIR Symposium again offers an ambitious programme. Among other things, the presentations will deal with measuring techniques, gluing and sealing difficult details, minimizing the air permeability of materials, quality assurance for very technology-intensive objects and measuring technology for very tall buildings. In addition, the question is discussed whether there can be leakages that can be tolerated. Take a look at the lecture programme right now!

We really want to make sure that you will have ample opportunity to talk to each other during the breaks and in the evening – despite the virtual setting: In our virtual BuildairLounge, you will be able to chat with each other almost like in real life. You just have to make sure that you have something to drink ...

We look forward to an exciting meeting – with you!

Kind regards,

Sabine Schneider
on behalf of the organising team
