I hereby submit an abstract for the 14th International BUILDAIR Symposium on May 16-17, 2025 in Hannover. With acceptance of the contribution I commit myself, to give free of charge a lecture as part of the conference on this topic – possibly online in a virtual room - to register for the conference and to provide a written contribution for the submitted abstract for publication in the internet and other media until Mai 9, 2025. I guarantee that the lecture's text is free of any third-party rights. I'm aware that my Abstract will be published in the conference proceedings.

I acknowledge that the decision of the conference advisory council about acceptance and allocation of my / our contribution is final and requires no justification. The recourse to law concerning acceptance and allocation of the contribution is excluded.
